The best part of my job

The best part of being an actress is I can show my talent of acting to others. Therefore I can use my talent to entertain people. I am very happy because I know the audience enjoys and likes my show. I am glad that I can act for people.

The biggest challenge I have ever faced in my job

Being an actress is not easy. The working time is long and I always do not have enough sleep. I am very busy and I have to work overnight sometimes. It is not good for my health and I can hardly see my parents. This is what I have to give up being a famous actress. I always miss my parents.

My most memorable moment

I was invited to participate in a show for an elderly home. The elderly were friendly. However, some of them couldn't see very well. Although they could only hear the show, they still clapped their hands and enjoyed our show. After the show, I held their hands and showed them our appreciation. All of us were happy and felt blessed.

The road to being an actress

At first, I had no idea how to get paid jobs after I finished my study at drama school. I started to be a volunteer acting for fund-raising events. One day, a company called me and invited me to join their company to act a main character of film. I was excited. That was the beginning of my road to become an actress. Until this day, I could never thank them enough for the chance they gave me.
