A Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor

I support the government's decision to build a new amusement park in Hong Kong. I think a new amusement park will bring benefits to Hong Kong's economy. Since we already have Hong Kong Disneyland and Ocean Park Hong Kong, why don't we build a Hong Kong Water Park?

In this new amusement park, there will be two different parts, such as the child world and the adult world. In the adult world, the water-based facilities are more exciting. For example, Big slides, Super loudspeaker, Chase chute. The child world has rides, and shows. There are also restaurants, and the restaurant's theme is Hong Kong local food.

The new amusement park will benefit Hong Kong. Since the amusement park will attract visitors, it will stimulate Hong Kong's economy. In addition, it can position Hong Kong as a destination for family travel. The Water Park is rare in Hong Kong. Therefore, it can enhance Hong Kong's image as a cosmopolitan city.

Yours faithfully,
Chris Wong
