A meaningful job - To be a teacher

Today I am going to write this article to share my experience and give advice to all of you. I am a teacher now and I think this is a meaningful job. I am glad to be a teacher, I have never thought about how happy it was before I started to be a teacher.

Although being a teacher is interesting, but you also need to work very hard and face a lot of problems. First, you need to be able to meet tight deadlines and work under pressure because you will be very busy checking the homework of the students and prepare teaching materials for the class, so you need to be willing to work hard. Second, you need to have a strong communication and organization skills since you need to teach the students well and clearly make them understand easily.

To be a teacher, you need to make sure that you have an attributes of being a teacher, you should love children and love teaching others, you need to have a lots of patience. That will be better if you love to work with others and be willing to be a team player.

If you make sure that you wants to be a teacher, you can write an application letter to the school to look forward for an interview, you can also write down more experience of you in the letter to make it special. There are some advice for you all to follow, you should learn how to take care of children and be good with them. The most important things is to study harder and practice your communication skills.

At last, I am going to share my experience in my job. I had tried to organize class activities for studying English. The students were all very happy and being active to join this activities. I am very glad and it was unforgettable because we all enjoy this activities.

If you follow all my advice and study hard to be a teacher, I believe that you can be successful. I hope you all can find an excellent and meaningful job for you in the future. Thank you for reading this article.
