

A Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

As a citizen of Hong Kong, I was ecstatic about what Hong Kong government are planning to build. It is known that Hong Kong has two praised amusement parks, one named Disneyland and the other named Ocean Park. They are both sought after by peoples, but as the time flies, their popularity cannot be compared with the past. Although Disneyland has kept building up new facilities, Ocean Park has kept bringing in new species to their aquarium, it is no longer a fresh thing for us.

I think the theme of our new amusement park can be about Chinese traditional culture. All facilities will be designed as “Old Hong Kong” style, it means that the staff of the new amusement park will wear Cheong Sam, shops will be decorated as “Old Hong Kong” style. Visitors can also take pictures with the Chinese Dragon, visitors who came from other countries may go to the hotel beside the park. The hotel will also be decorated as “Old Hong Kong” Style.

I am sure that the new amusement park will benefit Hong Kong. First, I am sure that there is no other same theme amusement park in the world, people who come from other countries will be attracted to Hong Kong, which will increase economic benefits. In addition, building a new amusement park can create lots of job opportunities, including the cleaning staff, constructors and administration staff. Last but not least, building a new amusement park can provide Hong Kong citizens with a theme park for enjoyment during holidays.

Your faithfully,

Chris Wong
